

KU Workshop on Innovative Role of IT concludes

Srinagar, KU June 4:Noted Information technology experts on Friday underlined the need for adopting new information and communication technology in all fields of knowledge and especially acquainting the student community regarding the new tools .

They were speaking at the technical sessions of the second day of the second day of a two day workshop on "Innovative role of Information Technology in Modern Business Environment" organized by the Directorate of Distance Education (DDE), University of Kashmir at its Conference Hall.

Prof Nitin Mukadam noted IT expert in his power point presentation at the technical session stressed on the need for corporate and academic interaction and expected that the recommendations of the workshop will help Kashmir university to move ahead successfully on the path of e governance for university and its affiliated collages .

Earlier while welcoming guests to the workshop, Prof Shafiq Parveen, Director DDE highlighted achievements of her directorate and said that Distance Education is a viable mode of Education, and it has the potential to provide quality education in diverse range of subjects on cost effective basis. Prof shafeeqa said that Information and communication technology has catalyzed the delivery system of distance education. She added that in terms of accessibility and enrolment, distance education has done a remarkable job. With the help of collaboration and networking distance education is strengthening globalization of education. said Prof Parveen . Reiterating her commitment to the creation of a system that would provide the right kind of an atmosphere where new ideas would flourish, prof Shafeeqa said that her directorate as used Distance Education system to reach trainees in geographically challenging areas like Karnah, Tangdar, Gurez, Leh, Kargil etc.,by envisaging a strong network of fully equipped study-cum- information centers at these places.

During technical sessions Prof. S Mufeed, Dr. F A Khan, faculty, The Business School (TBS), Manzoor Chachoo, Department of Computer Sciences, Er. Mehraj uj Din, Director IT & SS, Maroof Qadri, Information Technologist - KU, Er. Kaisar Rasheed, Department of Business and Financial Studies (DBFS) and Prof. B L Zutshi took sessions with participants.