

US Professor speaks on future of capitalism at KU

Srinagar KU : Prof Vishal Mangalwadi from Willium Carry University Pasadena California USA today delivered a lecture to the business school Kashmir university students in the conference room of the KU,s Ghandi Bhawan.

Does capitalism have a future in India Was the theme of the lecture attended by business school students, faculty of the business school and thirteen students from various universities of the USA who accompanied the learned professor .

Prof Nilofar Khan Dean Students Welfare chaired the session and said that these sessions will go a long way in helping our students to know and understand new trends in education . Director Business school Prof Shabir A Bhat earlier introduced the guest and the theme . He said the interactive sessions help our students to grow as they help them to understand new environs in business education the world over. We have many such programmes in pipe line for this academic session, announced Prof Shabir.

Later thirteen students from various Universities of the USA interacted with Kashmir university business school students.