Introduction

The Central Library IIT Delhi, in collaboration with the Department of Library & Information Science, University of Kashmir, is organizing a "Two Day ORCID GPF Supported Workshop on Open Access Publishing" from 3rd to 4th October 2024. The workshop is aimed to promote, use, and integrate ORCID API in the Indian Scholarly Ecosystem. The significance of open-access publishing in academia and research is burgeoning. Embracing this approach can significantly broaden the dissemination of research findings, promote global collaboration, foster innovation, and create a more accessible repository of knowledge for researchers and the public alike. Resource Persons from IIT Delhi will train the participants and expose them to the benefits of Open Access Publishing, especially in the light of ORCID.

Target Audience

The workshop is specifically tailored for faculty, scientists, scholars, and academic staff of Universities and Colleges.

Workshop Objectives

- Provide comprehensive training on the fundamental principles and practical aspects of open-access publishing, UNESCO Values and Principles of Open Science.
- Familiarize participants with various open access models (e.g., gold, green, and hybrid open access), open public licensing (Creative Commons), and resources like the Directory of Open Access Journals (DOAJ), emphasizing ethical standards.
- Enable effective utilization of open publishing platforms such as OJS (Open Journal System), covering installation, journal setup, submission management, peer review, and content publication.
- Understanding of ORCID and its API, Integration of ORCID API with OJS.
